“Quick Look Sheet”

Covenant Partners Inc. (CPI) is a faith-based 501 (c)(3) ministry. Working with Christian churches, faith-based organizations and individuals, CPI is committed to an authentically ethical approach to using this powerful communication media to share information toward a common goal of proclaiming the Gospel to every nation, every people.

Covenant Partners’ mission is to contend for the airways and assist others to use media as an effective communication tool during this day and age. This battle will require many intercessors and financial supporters to sustain our desired level of impact on the airways as the standard. We will become today’s “air traffic controllers”.

Allen and Tracy have invested their personal income to further the mission of CPI with the desire to bring together an experienced professional staff of media producers, technicians and volunteers that are armed with the Word of God. Covenant Partners technological offerings include multi-track audio production and recording, cable TV and video media production, music and talk radio production and programming. We are also equipped to support print media resources and services.
